

Full face transplant patient is looking forward to his first beer in five years

Oscar was badly disfigured after an accident with a gun

A farmer who became the recipient of the world's first full face transplant said that he was looking forward to tasting his favourite foods and enjoying a beer with friends, when he appeared in public for the first time yesterday.

Oscar, 31, who did not want to disclose his full identity, appeared at a press conference at the hospital in Spain where he underwent surgery to restore his face. He had been unable to eat, speak or breathe normally for five years.
